The Lord's Prayer

The 39th installment of Supreme Chaplain Bishop William E. Lori's faith formation program addresses questions 578-597 of the Compendium of the Catechism of the Catholic Church.

Our Father

Our Father who art in heaven,
hallowed be thy name.
Thy kingdom come.
Thy will be done
on earth, as it is in heaven.
Give us this day
our daily bread,
and forgive us our trespasses,
as we forgive those who trespass against us,
and lead us not into temptation,
but deliver us from evil.

Pater Noster

Pater noster, qui es in cælis:
sanctificétur Nomen Tuum:
advéniat Regnum Tuum:
fiat volúntas Tua,
sicut in cælo, et in terra.
Panem nostrum
cotidiánum da nobis hódie,
et dimitte nobis débita nostra
sicut et nos
dimíttimus debitóribus nostris.
et ne nos indúcas in tentatiónem; sed líbera nos a Malo.

Observing Jesus at prayer, his disciples asked him for instruction on how to pray. In response, Jesus taught them the Our Father, a prayer that is so familiar to us that we often say the words without reflecting on their meaning. Fittingly, the Compendium of the Catechism of the Catholic Church concludes with a brief but illuminating section on the prayer that the Lord himself taught us (580).

The Our Father is found in Scripture during the Sermon on the Mount, where Jesus also gave us the Beatitudes. The Our Father embodies the Beatitudes, which Blessed John Paul II called the "self-portrait" of Christ and the "blueprint" for holiness.

From the earliest times, the Our Father was "handed on" to those who were baptized. Reborn in Christ as members of the Church, we become capable of "speaking to God with the very Word of God" (Catechism of the Catholic Church, 2769). The true home of the Our Father is in the celebration of the Eucharist, which embodies its seven petitions (Compendium, 581).

In the Our Father we approach God the Father with simplicity and trust. When the eternal Son became man, he revealed the Father to us. The Holy Spirit joins us to Christ so that we may have knowledge of the Father and become his children. As we call upon God as our Father, the Spirit rekindles our desire to live as his sons and daughters (582-3).

CENTERED ON GOD

Every word counts in the Our Father, beginning with the simple word "our." To call God "our" Father is to affirm our relationship with him. In saying "our" Father, we also say that the Church of Christ is the communion of those who call God their Father (584). Thus the Our Father is implicitly a prayer for the unity of the Church and the unity of the entire human family (585).

In adding the phrase "who art in heaven," we acknowledge the utter grandeur of God, who is not diminished or "domesticated" when we call him our Father. Rather, in Christ and the Holy Spirit, we are lifted up to share the Father's glory (586).

After these opening words come the seven petitions. The first three praise God for his glory even as we ask to be drawn ever more deeply into that glory. The last four ask God to bend down to assist us in our need: "to feed us, to forgive us, to sustain us in temptation, and to free us from the Evil One" (587).
