Knights Helped Transform Kraków Into a City of Mercy

Thirty years ago, Pope John Paul II invited young Catholics to gather in a celebration of their faith at the first international World Youth Day (WYD). This year, at WYD 2016, held July 25-31, the Knights of Columbus proudly contributed once more to the saint's enduring love of the youth of the world. Assisted by several other organizations, including the Sisters of Life and Salt + Light Media, the Order set up the K of C Mercy Centre, an international English-language catechetical and youth festival site. There, millions of English-speaking pilgrims were offered the opportunity to come together in a single location to attend concerts, learn more about their faith and contemporary issues, and pray before the Blessed Sacrament. All pilgrims were welcome to participate at the Mercy Centre's events from July 26 through July 30. Pilgrims had the opportunity to venerate the relics of several Polish saints and hear witnesses of speakers from FOCUS (Fellowship of Catholic University Students), the Sisters of Life, the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops and many others. Mercy Centre pilgrims also learned models of sanctity through exhibitions on the Divine Mercy, the history of Christianity in Poland, Pope John Paul II and Solidarity, Auschwitz and more. Also available was a vocations café and exhibit on the diocesan priesthood.
